
Five seeds, 25,000 samples each. The pooled value looks stable only because one topology dominates the pooled test set.